In the event of default by the mortgagor in complying with the terms of payment hereof or if the mortgagor shall default in the observance of any of the promises, stipulations or conditions herein contained or should it appear that any representation or statement of the mortgagor to the mortgagee is untrue or should the mortgagee at any time have reasonable cause to believe that the chattel is in jeopardy or should the mortgagor be declared bankrupt or make an authorized assignment or suffer or permit the said chattel to be seized or taken in execution, or should any action or suit be taken or instituted in any court against the mortgagor whether with good cause or not, all of the unpaid instalments on this mortgage shall become immediately due and payable at the option of the mortgagee, and the mortgagee may take immediate possession of said chattel including any equipment or accessories thereto and for this purpose may enter upon any premises where same may be and remove the same and thereupon the mortgagee may sell said chattel at public auction or private sale with or without notice to the mortgagor and upon such terms and in such manner as the mortgagee may determine and the proceeds of any such sale less all expenses incurred by the mortgagee in re-taking said chattel including a reasonable solicitor's fee shall be appropriated to the payment of the balance then owing hereunder and the surplus remaining over shall be paid to the mortgagor and in case of deficiency the mortgagor shall be liable therefor, and further, in the event of default as aforesaid, the mortgagee may employ a collection agent and the mortgagor shall pay a reasonable collection fee. It is agreed that the mortgagee may at any such sale, and in its absolute discretion, accept as payment on account of the purchase money any other chattel and may repair the same and make alterations and additions thereto, it being agreed that the mortgagor shall not be entitled to credit upon the principal money and interest hereby secured until such chattel shall have been resold by the mortgagee, at which time credit shall be given for the monies received for such chattel after deducting therefrom all expenses in connection with the possession thereof, its storage and repair, the cost of all repairs, accessories or attachments thereto, advertising, commission and discount in respect of the sale by the mortgagee of any security given by the purchaser thereof. It is further agreed that the mortgagee and any officer, agent, or bailiff thereof may retake the said chattel hereunder as aforesaid at any time during the day or night.
